Priceless feedback from Young Authors participants

Once words are on paper and out of your mind, they are there to stay.

I learned that writing comes in many forms - all creative and all incredibly fun!

Anyone of any age and background can write and enjoy it.

At first I was scared to come here, but this was an illuminating experience.

I should be proud (which I am) that I got chosen to do this. I am an awesome writer!

If an author thinks a piece of writing is good, it's good - even if nobody else thinks so.

Today I learned where to find inspiration in my life!

This is a great opportunity to encourage all kinds of writing by actually doing it, not just hearing about it.

I observed how some students, when away from friends, can show their writing skills in astonishing ways.

I am always thrilled by kids' enthusiasm for writing.

Wow! It was incredible to hear young minds become wordsmiths and to see their passion for writing ignited.
