Calling all young writers who would like to spend a day learning with poets, songwriters, illustrators, storytellers and authors. During this one-day event held at Bethel University, students attend a variety of interactive, inspiring sessions and work directly with people who value and cherish writing. Young Authors invites all students with a yen to write to participate.

The 20th Annual Young Authors Conference provides superb opportunities for developing and celebrating writing skills and techniques. Join 4000+ young writers
